

Mike is no stranger to Calgary's music scene. Originally from Vernon, he moved to Calgary in 1992 while touring with The House of Payne. After years on the road with blues and funk bands across Canada, Mike transitioned into country music and spent two years playing with the Road Hammers as a sideman before settling into his current role as bandleader and keyboardist for George Canyon. He has received seven CCMA nominations for keyboard player of the year and won the award in 2007. When not touring, Mike's time is spent behind his desk at KLM Stage & Musician Services, a backline company and music school, or at home with his wife, daughter and their dogs.
